Meeting Employees' Needs

We understand that taking a leave of absence from work can be challenging. We are here to make that process easier for individuals struggling to get the help they need. We also understand that labor-intensive work may lead to mental health disorders, burnout, substance use, and physical health issues. Our team of professionals will guide you every step of the way.

Addiction Treatment

As a Midwest addiction treatment center, we know the value of family and the importance of integrated living. That is why we work hard to provide high-quality treatment programs with the American family in mind.

Substance use disorders can lead to work problems such as mistakes on the job, difficulties with co-workers, inability to focus, and even dangerous situations. If you are experiencing any of these or other issues at work, we are here to help. We offer the full continuum of care, including detox, inpatient programs, and outpatient treatment.

We provide comprehensive treatment for every person who is struggling with substance use disorders by treating the physical, mental, and spiritual aspects of addiction. Taking these extra steps allows us to help you heal, conquer your addiction, and begin to thrive. Recovery is possible.

Co-occurring Disorder Treatment

Having a mental illness and a substance use disorder simultaneously is called co-occurring disorder. Co-occurring substance use disorders with psychiatric disorders may differ in severity, and the severity may change over time. We offer the following levels of care and special programming for Co-occurring Disorder Treatment:

- Medical Detox
- Inpatient Rehab
- Partial Hospitalization Program (PHP) with housing if needed
- Intensive Outpatient Program (IOP)
- Outpatient Program
- Relapse Prevention Program

Mental Health Treatment

For individuals struggling with anxiety, depression, trauma, and mood and thought disorders, our Mental Health Center can help you live a life free of suffering. Through medication management, individual counseling and group therapy, we offer a number of modalities and special therapeutic techniques by our licensed therapists who are trained to help those struggling with mental health disorders.
